

Home

Join MSRPO
Now!

Manage Your Land and Cabin to Survive a Forest Fire

Hello,

On June 3, 2010, I gave a presentation called "How Humans Shaped the North Woods" at the Mill City Museum in Minneapolis. Much of the presentation focused on aspects of my book Forest for the Trees -- specifically, the history of fire and fire management in Minnesota. Eli Sagor of My Minnesota Woods was on hand to record the presentation, and I'm passing it along here for your review.

My research for the book was over a decade, and continues through today, with the current focus being on the role of fire regime disturbance in forest management. Homes and cabins that survive inevitable wildfires are not miracles. There is much you can do as a property owners to not only benefit the health and vigor of your land, but to decrease the risk to your property from wildfire.

Use the buttons below the slides to pause, skip ahead, or repeat content. If you have trouble with the slideshow, please let us know. Click on the play button (arrow) to begin.

Jeff Forester: How Humans Shaped the North Woods

Click here to sign up for our mailing list

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jeff Forester".

Jeff Forester
Executive Director
MSRPO Coalition
(952) 854.1317
jeff@msrpo.org